Over Five Hundred Plan To Attend Legion Dance

Torrance will turn out en masse to enjoy one of the largest dancing parties ever held in this vicinity if every purchaser of tickets to the American Legion party Friday evening presents his tickets at the door, it was learned from Don Baxter, chairman of the dance committee. Over 550 tickets have already been sold and the total will reach the 600 mark before the orchestra strikes up the opening number at 8 o'clock, according to Mr. Baxter, who is very appreciative of the splendid support given the legion by merchants and other citizens.

An interesting program of entertainment is provided and refreshments will be served so that everyone will enjoy the evening whether they can dance or not. Another feature that is bound to draw a considerable crowd is the awarding of the $125 diamond ring provided through the generosity of Baker Smith, jeweler. A seven-piece orchestra of local legionnaires will furnish music. Tickets purchased at the door will participate in the awarding of the diamond ring. Mr. Baxter states, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend. The dance will be held at the Women's clubhouse on Egracia avenue, tomorrow evening.

REV. JOHN SPEED TAKES A BRIDE

Rev. John B. Speed, pastor of the First Baptist church of Torrance, and Miss Eva Fennell of Fallon, Nevada, were quietly united in marriage Saturday noon at the home of Rev. H. B. Tranchel, pastor of the Keystone Baptist church.

The single ring service was used. The bride was beautifully attired in a flowered, elegant voile gown. There were no attendants.

The Tranchel home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with large bouquets of gladioli.

Rev. Speed has been pastor of the Torrance Baptist church for some time past, while his bride has been engaged in service as a missionary to the Indians at Fallon, Nevada.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short honeymoon, and on their return will reside at the parsonage.

WIENER BAKE AT CLIFTON

JUVENILE DEPT. HEAD SPEAKS AT BANQUET

One Hundred and Fifty Torrance Fathers and Sons Attend Brotherhood Dinner.

"Put me in touch with the Heart of a Boy, let me study his doubts and fears. Let me show him the ways of life, and help him avoid its tears. For the Heart of a Boy in its buoyancy, is one that is pure and free."

So, put me in touch with the Heart of a Boy, the Heart of a man to be."

Quoting this appropriate poem, George H. Newland, boys supervisor of the Juvenile department of the Harbor district, opened his talk at the Father and Sons banquet, given at the Methodist church last Monday evening.

He spoke to his audience of 150 fathers and their sons in an understanding manner, and illustrated his talk with examples from real life.

Preceding the speaker, David Clark gave several harmonica numbers, and Milton Everett gave his prize oration on "The Expansion of the Constitution."

There were also community singing, after which each father stood and introduced his son. Dr. A. R. Wightman, 99, the oldest father present, introduced his son, E. J. Wightman of Long Beach.

The newly elected officers of the Brotherhood were introduced by the new president, J. B. Edwards.

Following Mr. Newland's talk, Rev. R. A. Young spoke a few words.

State Urged To Acquire Butano Forest

Native Sons Parlor of California are vigorously pushing a movement for state acquisition of 10,000-acre primeval wood forest of the Butano to add to California State Redwood Park which it adjoins. Here are typical scenes in the Butano country, lying just 40 miles south of San Francisco, secured by 1930 Buick scout party. Upper left—In heart of forest. Center—Nearing forest boundary. Upper right—Rustic bridge amid Butano giants. Lower left—Butano Falls. Lower right—Entrance to forest.

A vigorous movement inaugurated by Santa Cruz Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West, and already endorsed by a large number of the parlors in other cities comes to a successful conclusion, the State of California will have taken steps to add the picturesque Butano Forest to the California general park system now being formulated.

The Native Sons are being actively aided in the Butano preservation movement by the Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce and by scores of prominent residents of San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Cruz counties. The project now being urged would add the 10,000-acre primeval forest of the Butano to the California State Redwood Park, commonly known as the Big Basin, which borders the Butano on the latter's southern boundary. Hearing of the progress of the movement to save the Butano as a state preserve and playground, the Buick-Marquette dealer organization of California recently dispatched a scout party in a 1930 Buick four-passenger coupe to the forest.

The forest, the Buick scouts ascertained, slopes from the two sides of a 2500-foot divide. In addition to its picturesque timber covered heights, it is interspersed with many bench areas and bottom lands. It is drained by two beautiful main creeks—the Pescadero and Butano—and a network of smaller tributaries. It contains numerous groves of the very finest specimens of the Sequoia Sempervirens, or California Redwood, yet extant. Scores of these Butano giants near their centuries-old shafts about an average 350 feet and have girths of from thirty to sixty feet. A wondrous growth of the choicest species of ferns—all varieties of sword, delicate five-finger and maidenhair—blankets both slopes.

Though no roads as yet run into the Butano proper, the Buick scouts reached its western border at Hidden Forest after traveling six miles over a private county road from the picturesque coast town of Pescadero. In the event of its acquisition by the state, sponsors of the purchase state, several easy approaches to the very heart of the forest could be constructed at moderate cost. The Butano lies only forty miles directly south from San Francisco and is within an easy day's motoring time from the thickly populated Los Angeles area.

Women's Club Closes Successful Year

With the handing of the gavel to Mrs. Caroline Collins, newly elected president, by Mrs. Frank Sammons, retiring president, on Wednesday afternoon another year passed into golden memories and a new year with all its hopes and aspirations opened for the club.

Mrs. Charles S. McKelvey of Los Angeles, vice-president of the Los Angeles district federation, was the installing officer. The other officers installed besides the president were Mrs. Paul Vonderahe, first vice-president; Mrs. O. W. Hudson, third vice-president; Mrs. Dewey Quigley, recording secretary; Mrs. Frank Sammons, federation secretary; Mrs. W. J. Neelands, director.

Mrs. N. F. Jamieson was out of town and so could not be installed as the other director.

Mrs. McKelvey, in a splendid talk, told the club that they got out of club work more than they put in. There are wonderful friendships, broader horizons, greater responsibilities to the community and state. Women need the club life. The success of a club in any community means co-operation of every member.

Mrs. Sammons welcomed the members and their guests to the luncheon and introduced the officers of the club under her administration. She said that being a president of a club was an adventure in friendship and that everyone had been kind and loyal to her. In presenting the gavel to Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Sammons wished her the greatest success in the year to come.

Mrs. Collins in responding said that she accepted the gavel with the greatest pleasure and that she would give her best to the club and hoped all would play fair and square, and that there would be no slackers.

Mrs. F. M. Buffington gave two piano numbers, Arapeseque, E Major, by Claude Debussy and Valse Caprice by Cyril Scott. Miss Marquette Jones sang a group of American songs, Joy of the Morning, Harriet Ware; The Pine Tree, Mart Turner Salter; and The Clover, Edward MacDowell. Both of these women are newcomers to Torrance and will quite an addition to musical circles. Miss Jones was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Guy Claire.

Mrs. R. A. Young gave three readings, The Gypsy Flower Girl, a dramatic reading; The Split Skirt and The Embarrassing Moment, both humorous. The Split Skirt being an original number.

The reports of the different chairmen of the club showed that they had been busy during the year. Mrs. Earnest Lock is giving her report on the Mothers' Educational Center, stated that the Torrance Chamber of Commerce was the only one in the district which bore the expense of a center. The press chairman in giving her report showed that the club had had more than 312 1/2 inches of publicity which would have cost the club in the neighborhood of $480.75. The credit of this wonderful publicity goes not to the press chairman but to her able assistant, Mrs. E. W. Huddleston.

Mrs. Mary Young explained the plans of having a "Powder Lady" in the club this year. This powder lady will not be there to instruct the members in the use of powder but is to help make the club a more friendly institution. Small papers bearing the name and address of a club member were folded to represent powder papers and these were passed to the members who each drew one. These powder papers are to be taken before each club meeting when the members are to drop a postal or call on the member whose name they have drawn that there is to be a club meeting. The name of the powder lady is to be kept a secret until the close of the year when at some meeting each will tell who was their powder lady. This plan was suggested by Mrs. Earnest Lock who told of a club in Los Angeles who had a capsule friend and Mrs. Mary Young who told of a club where they had a powder lady.

Mrs. Paul Vonderahe presented Mrs. Sammons with a blue and gold pencil set on behalf of the club. Mrs. Isabel Henderson and Mrs. N. F. Jamieson, who are absent from town on the vacation, sent Mrs. Collins a beautiful message of pansies and Mrs. Russell Budge, presented Mrs. Collins with a basket of flowers on behalf of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The session of the club was opened with a delicious luncheon served by the members of the Methodist Ladies' Aid. The table decorations were bowls or corncobs and bachelor buttons, baskets of beautiful gladioli were on the stage amid greenery.

The officers who will serve the club for the coming year are Mrs. Caroline Collins, president; Mrs. Paul Vonderahe, first vice-president and program chairman; Mrs. Hurum Reeves, second vice-president and membership chairman; Mrs. O. W. Hudson, third vice-president and house chairman; Mrs. D. W. Quigley, recording secretary; Mrs. N. F. Jamieson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Sammons, federation secretary; Mrs. Archie Lewis, treasurer; Mrs. P. G. Briney, auditor. The directors of the club are: Mrs. Isabel Henderson, co-operation chairman; Mrs. J. S. Sleppy, parliamentary; Maude Lock, child welfare; Mrs. W. J. Neelands, ways and means.

The different chairmen are: Mrs. J. S. Lancaster, hospitality; Mrs. R. Roblofs, afternoon tea; Mrs. Clara Curtis, music; Mrs. Ila Gilber, luncheon reservations; Mrs. Sam Levy, official ticket taker for all paid entertainment; Mrs. J. W. Post, club decorations; Mrs. R. A. Young, Bible; Mrs. Jay Allen, American homes; Mrs. Le Grand Barndull, motion pictures; Mrs. Russell Budge, co-operation with war veterans; Mrs. George Worcester, institutional relations; Mrs. Thomas Edmunds, international relations; Mrs. Emma Merriam, remembering the sick; Mrs. Phoebe J. Milburn, press.

Three Persons Hurt In Crash Sunday Evening

Three persons received painful injuries Sunday evening when a car driven by L. J. Riscoe, 8507 Orchard avenue, Los Angeles, and another occupied by Roy McKinley, R.F.D. No. 1, Redondo Beach, and C. C. McClung, 16804 Lowell street, collided on Redondo-Riverside boulevard about one-half mile west of Western avenue.

The injured were Mrs. Margaret Riscoe, left wrist fractured; Cleo, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riscoe, 10-inch cut in arm; and Mrs. Bertha Oros, age 58, mother of Mrs. Riscoe, multiple cuts and bruises. The victims were brought to the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital for treatment. Mrs. Riscoe and Cleo returned to their home the same evening. Mrs. Oros remained in the hospital until Monday. McClung and McKinley were placed under arrest and taken to the county jail. When sobriety tests indicated that they had been drinking they were held in jail pending trial at Gardena.
